DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter Withdrawn

The indicated allowability of claims 1-7 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Pollack et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,980,396 "Pollack"). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pollack et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,980,396 "Pollack").

Regarding claim 1, Pollack discloses a display comprising:

- a display area (Figure 4); and

- a light guide for providing light to the display area, the light guide comprising:

- a planar light guiding medium (Figure 4 element 4) formed of liquid crystal material (Column 2 line 61) and having a light emitting surface (Figure 4, facing eye) and a side face disposed around the light emitting surface;

- a plurality of light pipes (Figure 4 element 7; Column 10 lines 16-28), each light pipe having a collector end for collecting light and an output end, the output ends being arranged along the side face so as to introduce the collected light into the guiding medium; wherein the output ends of the light pipes are distributed along the side face.

Regarding claim 2, Pollack discloses the collector ends of the light pipes as distributed over a light collecting area and wherein the position of the collector ends on the light collecting area is scrambled relative to the position of the corresponding output ends on the side faces of the light guiding medium (Column 10 lines 16-29).

Regarding claims 4 and 7, Pollack discloses means as provided for applying an electrical signal to the guiding medium in one or more localized areas (Figure 4 elements 2 and 5); and, the guiding medium as responsive to the electrical signal such that the optical properties of the optical medium are changed in each localized area where the electrical signal is applied, with the result that in the localized areas wherein the electrical signal is applied, light traveling along the guiding medium exits the guiding medium through the light emitting surface (Column 4 lines 11-28), and where the electrical signal is not applied, light within the light guiding medium is channeled therealong (Column 4 lines 6-11).

Regarding claim 6, Pollack discloses the light pipes as formed from optic fibers (Column 10 line 21).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pollack in view of Margerum et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,099,343 "Margerum").

Pollack discloses the light guiding medium as having a planar back surface (Figure 4 element 4). Pollack fails to disclose a reflecting layer as provided on the back surface of the light guiding medium. Margerum, however, teaches an edge illuminated liquid crystal display analogous to the display disclosed by Pollack that utilizes a reflecting layer on the back surface of the liquid crystal light guiding medium (element 33; Column 4 lines 40-58).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a reflecting layer on the back surface of the light guiding medium in the display device disclosed by Pollack. Margerum teaches a reflecting layer on the back surface of the light guiding medium as effective to increase the scattering of light toward the front of the panel (Column 4 lines 45-48). Margerum teaches such an optimization of the panel as advantageous for use in particular display applications, such as in an automotive heads-up display (Column 4 lines 54-58).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to disclose or suggest a display device having the features of claim 1 in which a quarter wave plate is provided at the output of each light pipe. Pollack discloses each of the features of claim 1, however, the prior art fails to disclose or suggest a quarter wave plate as provided at the output of each light pipe.
